Construction risks can vary in size and complexity, and they can evolve throughout a project. At Northbridge, we understand your challenges and we're committed to providing you with a comprehensive insurance solution to help you finish the job on time, no matter what happens.

We take your coverage a few steps further to help keep your operations running safely, smoothly, and consistently.

We know that your unique set of risks can differ from the risks other construction and contracting companies face. We believe that you can avert some of those exposures with the right information and some smart guidance. Whether it's performing project site visits, consulting on the importance of certificates of insurance, or providing training and risk bulletins, our in-house Risk Services consultants offer a wealth of tools and services to help you minimize risk.

And while we hope you never experience a loss, if you do, you can count on our dedicated claims team to help get you back to business quickly. We'll work with your broker to get the claims process underway as soon as your claim is reported, and we'll always keep you in the loop. If any questions or concerns should arise, we're here for you 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.
