Added Minor Revisions to the following:

And Relocation of the Existing Trade Definition covering:

- Access Control Systems (relocated and combined in Electrical trade definition)

We have also made numerous minor revisions throughout the document that may or may not affect the work of each trade but eliminates the ambiguity of the existing verbiage that could result in unforeseen work due to misinterpretation of the language used.

PLEASE NOTE: It is the responsibility of each General Contractor, Trade Contractor, Manufacturer and Supplier, to review each of the respective trade definition scopes, as revisions have been made throughout the document that may or may not be different from previous versions.

For a quick review of the changes made please refer to Version 8.1 which shows the additions and deletions in each Trade Definition.
